The Stewards received through the Clerk of the Course a report from two judges of fact that they had seen a van next to car No. 87 in a road section (report attached).

The Stewards were informed during the hearing with the Entrant and driver of car No. 87 Mr. Davide Catania that the engine set-up of his Subaru is tuned for the compulsory fuel for the Italian Championship with 102 octanes and due his last minute entry to the event he was not able to order the FIA fuel in time, being afraid that the fuel from the pump in the remote refuelling zone with 95 octanes would be detrimental to his engine. Therefore he decided to have the 102 octane fuel in a van whenever he needed it. Only later in the event he was informed that he could use an additive to enhance the quality of the 95 octane fuel.

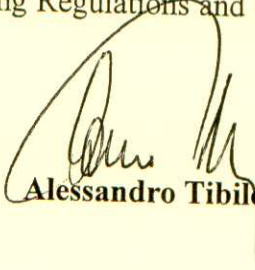

- After due deliberation, the Stewards

DECIDE

That this is a breach of Art. 51.1 of the 2009 FIA WRC Sporting Regulations and subsequently exclude car No. 87 from the event.

TRANSLATION

Subject: Report n.2 from the Judges of Fact Mr. Paolo Malatesta e Francesco Chellini Car. N. 87

We report here what we saw today 22nd May 2009 at 13h21 close to the junction for Badu Andria:

we noticed a white van, Fiat Ducato, registration number DH 424 HH parked along the transfer road between SS3 and the Service Park.

We stopped to have a look but just hundred metres down the road not to be noticed. Later on when car N. 87 (Subaru Impreza) driven by Mr. Catania arrived, the people from the van asked the crew to follow them towards Badu Andria in order to service the car. The van's driver and another person got out of the van and together with the crew they refueled the car.

Then car N. 87 drove away towards the stage.
